Item 4 – Advisory Business

Hassell Wealth Management (HWM) (CRD # 297892) is registered as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. HWM is based in Louisiana and is organized as a limited liability company under the laws of the State of Louisiana.

HWM's principal office and place of business is located at 300 Lafayette Street, Suite 200, Houma, LA, 70360. Regular business hours are Monday through Friday 8:00 am to 3:00 pm. The firm can be contacted by phone at (985) 868-9881.

The firm is owned by John T. Hassell and Stephen K. Hassell. Stephen K. Hassell is the firm's Chief Compliance Officer.

HWM provides general wealth management services to individual investors including portfolio management services and financial planning services. The firm also provides retirement plan services to businesses and other institutional investors.

Investment Management Services

HWM provides ongoing discretionary portfolio management services to individuals, families and businesses through the firm's Wrap Fee Program whereby participants in the program receive portfolio management, custodial, reporting and clearing services for one all inclusive fee (see our "Form ADV Part 2A Appendix 1- Investment Management Wrap Fee Program Brochure"). When providing portfolio management services, the firm not only makes recommendations related to investments and outside managers, but also implements these recommendations and provides ongoing monitoring and reporting.

Financial Planning Services

Additionally, HWM provides project oriented and ongoing financial planning services to individuals and families where the firm offers advice or other strategic assistance in areas such as education funding, retirement planning, estate planning, risk management, employee benefits planning, tax planning, etc. When engaged to provide financial planning assistance, clients are responsible for determining whether or not to implement a recommendation, and if they decide to do so, are responsible for implementation. The details of an engagement vary on a case by case basis depending on the complexity of the client's financial situation. Generally however, an engagement involves identification of goals and objectives, collection and analysis of data, formulation of a strategy, and preparation of a written plan.

Retirement Plan Services

HWM also provides retirement plan services to businesses which may include plan level services such as discretionary management services, non-discretionary management services, and investment advisory/consulting services related to different types of retirement plans. When providing management services, the firm is responsible for implementing recommendations. When the firm is providing advisory services, the client is responsible for implementation of recommendations.

Regardless of the services provided, each is tailored to the individual needs of a particular client (whether an individual, a family, or a business) through an assessment conducted prior to an engagement. Clients may impose restrictions related to the level of discretion granted, the types of investments used, etc. Terms of an actual engagement, including description of service, limitations and restrictions, fees, etc., are all detailed before any engagement begins in a written client agreement.

Because HWM is a registered investment adviser, we are required to meet certain fiduciary standards when providing investment advice to clients. Additionally, when we provide investment advice related to a retirement plan account or an individual retirement account, we are considered fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. As such, we are required to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours, even though our compensation creates some conflicts with your interests in that the more you have us manage, the more we can earn. Our clients however are under no obligation to use services recommended by our associated persons. Furthermore, we believe that our recommendations are in the best interests of our clients and are consistent with our clients' needs.

As of the March 07, 2023, HWM managed $224,779,319 in assets, all of which was managed on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Investment Management Services

Investment management services are provided under our “Wrap Fee Program” whereby participants in the program receive portfolio management, reporting, and clearing services for one all-inclusive fee. See our “Form ADV Part 2A Appendix 1- Investment Management Wrap Fee Program Brochure” for fee related information.

Financial Planning Services

Fees charged for financial planning services are quoted in advance and charged at a fixed amount. Quoted fixed fees will be based on the complexity and level of service provided on a case by case basis. As mentioned above, services may include planning in areas such as education funding, retirement planning, estate planning, risk management, employee benefits planning, tax planning, etc. Since each of these areas can vary in complexity depending on the complexity of the client's financial situation, cost will vary as well. If the client engages HWM for additional investment advisory services, HWM may offset all or a portion of its fees for financial planning services.

Fees are generally billed directly to the client in arrears, although a portion of which may be billed in advance.

Services may be terminated at any time by either party with 30 days written notice to the other party, and fees will be prorated based on the degree to which services have been completed. Any payments made in advance will be prorated and refunded to the client.

All financial planning fees paid to HWM are separate and unrelated to any fees or expenses assessed by any broker, custodian, or other outside party.

Retirement Plan Services

Fees charged for retirement plan services may be charged in advance or in arrears depending on the service provided. Fees may be fixed or asset-based (not to exceed 1.0% annually when charged against plan assets), and are negotiable depending on the complexity of the service. Fee levels (whether fixed or asset-based) are primarily based on actual services to be provided.

Fees may be deducted directly from client accounts on a quarterly basis, or clients may elect to alternatively pay fees by check or wire transfer.

Services may be terminated at any time by either party with 30 days written notice to the other party, and fees will be prorated accordingly. Any payments made in advance will be prorated and refunded to the client.

All retirement plan fees paid to HWM are separate and unrelated to any fees or expenses assessed by any broker, custodian, or other outside party.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

HWM does not charge performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client), and consequently does not simultaneously manage performance-based and non-performance based accounts.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

HWM provides services to individuals, businesses and retirement plans.

For its investment management services, HWM may impose a minimum fee for establishing or maintaining a client's account, but the firm reserves the right to waive minimums at its discretion.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

HWM's general investment strategy, consistent with the tenets of modern portfolio theory, is to attempt to reduce risk and volatility by building globally diversified portfolios. To implement this strategy, HWM primarily uses fundamental security methods of analysis, as well as market trend and economic cycle analysis. In addition to more strategically invested client portfolios, HWM may also employ relative strength and other methods of technical analysis in managing a portion of a client's portfolio in a tactical investment strategy. These strategies may exhibit higher levels of trading and may also vary exposure to various investments and asset classes in the client portfolio based on the objective of each strategy.

HWM may use or recommend various other investment vehicles or outside investment managers in the implementation of our strategies. Strategies may also include long-term purchases (securities held at least a year), short-term purchases (securities sold within a year), trading (securities sold within 30 days), margin and options. Information about strategies used by outside investment managers can be found in the applicable manager's Form ADV Part 2 Disclosure Brochure which is available upon request.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Such risks include market risk, interest rate risk, currency risk, political risk, and loss of capital, among others. Additionally, certain trading strategies can affect investment performance through increased brokerage and other transactions. Each client's propensity for risk however is thoroughly evaluated, documented, and considered throughout the portfolio implementation process.

Although HWM intends to manage risk through the careful selection of investments, no investment strategy can ensure a profit or avoid a loss.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to the evaluation of the firm or the integrity of its management. HWM is currently not subject to, nor has ever been subject to, any legal or disciplinary events of a material nature.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

HWM may also offer clients advice or recommendations related to insurance products. Some associated persons of HWM are licensed insurance agents and may represent various insurance companies. Any insurance product placed through associated persons may generate standard and customary insurance commissions and other compensation, a portion of which may be received by associated persons of HWM.

While HWM will endeavor at all times to put the interest of clients first as part of its fiduciary duty, clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation creates a potential conflict of interest and may affect the judgment of individuals who make recommendations. However, our clients are under no obligation to purchase products recommended by our associated persons or to purchase products through our associated persons. We believe that our recommendations are in the best interests of our clients and are consistent with our clients' needs.

HWM does not participate in any other financial industry activities and has no other financial industry affiliations.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Code of Ethics

HWM has adopted a Code of Ethics expressing the firm's commitment to ethical conduct. The HWM Code of Ethics describes the firm's fiduciary duties and responsibilities to clients, and details practices for reviewing the personal securities transactions of supervised persons with access to client information. The Code also requires compliance with applicable securities laws, addresses insider trading, and details possible disciplinary measures for violations. HWM will provide a complete copy of its Code of Ethics to any client upon request to the Chief Compliance Officer.

Trading Conflicts of Interest

Individuals associated with HWM are permitted to buy or sell securities for their personal accounts identical to or different than those recommended to clients. However, no person employed by HWM is allowed to favor his or her own interest over that of a client or make personal investment decisions based on the investment decisions of advisory clients.

In order to address potential conflicts of interest, HWM requires that associated persons with access to advisory recommendations provide annual securities holdings reports and quarterly transaction reports to the firm's Chief Compliance Officer. HWM also requires prior approval from the Chief Compliance Officer for investing in any IPOs or private placements (limited offerings).

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

The Custodian and Brokers We Use

We do not maintain custody of client assets. Instead, we require all client assets be maintained in an account at a non-affiliated “qualified custodian,” generally a broker-dealer or bank. We are not affiliated with any particular custodian but instead all custodians are independently owned and operated. The custodian will hold your assets in a brokerage account and will be able to buy and sell securities on your behalf.

While we may recommend that you use a particular custodian/broker, you will ultimately decide whether to do so and will open your account with the custodian/broker by entering into an account agreement directly with one of them.

How We Select Custodians and Brokers

When recommending a custodian or broker for our clients, we consider many different factors including quality of service, types of services offered, overall capability, execution quality, competitiveness of transaction costs, availability of investment research, reputation of the firm, and financial resources, among other things. In determining the reasonableness of a broker's compensation, we consider the overall cost to you relative to the benefits you receive, both directly and indirectly, from the broker.

Your Brokerage and Custody Costs

Our clients receive various services directly from our custodians. For our clients' accounts that they maintain, the custodian charges an asset based fee that covers trading fees and custody services. As part of the Wrap Fee Program, HWM has chosen to absorb these costs that would otherwise be paid by the client. Fees applicable to our client accounts were negotiated based on the condition that our clients collectively maintain a certain level of assets at the custodian. We feel this commitment benefits you because we expect the overall rates you pay for fees will be lower than they might be otherwise.

Since custodians often charge clients a fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer, we have the custodians execute most trades for your account in order to minimize your trading costs. We have determined that having the custodians execute most trades is consistent with our duty to seek "best execution" of your trades. Best execution means seeking the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors, including those listed above.

Products and Services Available to Us from Brokers/Custodians

The custodians provides us and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage services like trading, custody, reporting, and related services, many of which are not typically available to retail customers. The custodians also make available various support services, some of which may help us manage or administer our clients' accounts, while others may help us manage and grow our business.

Other institutional brokerage services which benefit you directly include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and asset custody. The investment products available through the custodians include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients.

The custodians may also make available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both the custodians' own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at the custodians. In addition to investment research, the custodians may also make available software and other technology that provide access to client account data, facilitates trade execution for multiple client accounts, provides pricing and other market data, facilitates payment of our fees from our clients' accounts, and assists with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting.

The custodians may also offer other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business. These services include educational conferences and events, consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs, publications and conferences on practice management and business succession, and access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers.

The availability of these services from the custodians benefit us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. Of course, this may give us an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with a particular custodian based on our interests rather than yours, which is a potential conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our recommendation of a custodian is in the best interests of our clients, and is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of the custodian's services and not the custodian's services that benefit only us.

Aggregation of Transactions

HWM may, from time to time, aggregate client orders into blocks in order to facilitate more efficient account management and execution. When aggregating orders, an average price is given to all participants in the block, or other measures are taken, in order to treat all accounts fairly.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Review of Accounts

Accounts are generally reviewed on a weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annual basis, or annual basis depending on the type of account. Reviews may be general in nature, addressing investment objectives, risk tolerances or asset allocations, or they may be more detailed, depending on circumstances. The level of detail of the review is generally triggered by factors such as market, political, or economic conditions, or the client's individual financial situation. Clients should notify the firm of any material personal financial changes.

Regular Reports Provided to Clients

In addition to the quarterly statements and confirmations of transaction that clients receive from the custodian, HWM may provide other reports directly to the client from time to time depending on the type of engagement. Investment management clients for example may receive periodic holdings and or performance related reports. Financial planning clients may receive a planning analysis but do not receive regular reports from HWM.

HWM urges clients to carefully review custodial statements and compare them to the reports which we may provide.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

HWM does not compensate any outside parties for client referrals, nor do we receive any compensation or non-cash economic benefit for client referrals.

HWM does, however, receive economic benefits from our custodian in the form of the support products and services that are made available to us and to other independent investment advisors. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12 above. The firm may also on limited occasions receive travel expense reimbursements for industry meetings related to market analysis, investment strategies, and practice management. The firm may also receive nominal expense reimbursements (e.g. food, beverage, etc.) from service providers participating in firm sponsored events. The availability to us of these economic benefits is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying or recommending particular securities for our clients. Furthermore, our representatives are required to make all investment decisions and recommendations based solely on the interests of the applicable client.

Item 15 – Custody

As noted in Item 12, HWM recommends that clients' assets be held by a qualified custodian. Although we do not hold assets, we may have limited control in some instances to trade on your behalf, to deduct our advisory fees from your account with your authorization, or to request disbursements on your behalf (although various types of written authorizations are required depending on the type of disbursements).

You will receive account statements directly from your custodian at least quarterly, which will be sent to the email or postal mailing address you provide. HWM urges clients to carefully review custodial statements and compare them to any account reports that we might provide.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

HWM will accept discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. We do not accept non-discretionary accounts. The firm and its clients may also delegate authority to outside managers.

When granted authority to manage accounts, HWM customarily has the authority to determine which securities and the amounts that are bought or sold. Any discretionary authority accepted by HWM, however, is subject to the client's risk profile and investment objectives, and may be limited by any other limitations provided by the client in writing.

Neither HWM nor outside managers will exercise discretionary authority until they have been given authority to do so in writing. Such authority is granted in the written agreement with the client, and in the written agreement with the third party custodian.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

HWM does not vote proxies on behalf of clients.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required in some cases to provide certain financial information and/or disclosures about their financial condition. For example, if the firm requires prepayment of fees for six months in advance, has custody of client funds, or has a condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet its contractual commitments to its clients, it must provide financial information and make disclosures.

HWM has no financial or operating conditions which trigger such additional reporting requirements.
